Chinese Here To Study Fiber Crops Before Return To His Island Home

Everglades Experiment Station was host this week to Pa. Lun Chang, senior agronomist at the Taiwan Agricultural Research Institute, Taipei, Formosa, who visited Belle Glade on the last leg of his one-year stay in the United States where he came under the sponsorship of the International Cooperation Administration of USDA.

The Nationalist Chinese government is faced with a vast problem in deciding what to do with their ten million people who live on an island of 23,885 square miles. The island is 240 miles long and 85 wide at its widest point. The island of Formosa is also called Taiwan.

Mr. Chang's objective in America is to learn all he can about fiber crops. With such a limited amount of Formosa land—about one fourth—the Chinese can't afford to let disease cut down yield and quality of their crops, he said.

He's been in this country one year studying at the University of Minnesota at St. Paul. He also studied rice growing at Beaumont, Texas and before stopping at Belle Glade.

Plant breeding improvement is a necessity, Chang said. His study of agronomy will help that country grow better rice, sugar cane, cotton, ramie, kenaf and jute.

At present Formosan agriculture is producing enough food to feed its people with some left over for export. Chang pointed out that one year of bad crop would put a strain on the island's economy with regard to the crop which the disease affected.

A lot of fertilizer is used on the sandy soil, he said, and it was not uncommon to grow three to five crops on the same land each year. Most of the island is warm year-round, with only in the north does it become cold in winter. Summers are dry.

School DCT Course Wins Approval As Many Businesses Cooperate Here

Belle Glade High School administrative personnel expect about 18 students to take part in the school's first year of Diversified Cooperative Training course which begins this September, states Wayne Fortenberry, teacher-coordinator of DCT.

Reaction from business firms, parents and students has been good, he said, and cooperation is running high. Because of the acceptance of DCT programs by businesses, Fortenberry said, he expects to have more jobs available than students to fill them, but he still wants to have the community solidly solid on the program.

Final registration deadline for students wanting to enter DCT this semester will be Sept. 1. Counseling is going on now, and those interested should contact Belle Glade High School.

As Fortenberry pointed out when the announcement was made, the DCT program is to offer the DCT program, (The Herald, July 16) DCT accomplishes two main objectives: 1.

The program helps students find a place in the business world. 2. It helps employers train young people in specific trades and businesses. Both objectives tend to keep young people in their community to satisfy the demands of trades and businesses.

To be a success, Fortenberry says, "the program takes the cooperation of the community, employer, student, parent, school and the teacher-coordinator."

Training DCT will be a two-year program for juniors and seniors with a "C" average who are not planning to attend college. Their schedule would require five credits per year. Juniors must have ten credits and a senior 15 credits to enter the program.

Breakdown of the credit study according to Fortenberry, would be: 1 credit: General Related Study (Credit: Specific Related Study) 2 Credits: Academic Study (to meet requirements) 1 Credit: Afternoon on-the-job (five hours)

Registration starts at 9:30 a. m. and the meeting will adjourn at 2 p. m. One-hour classes will be held on the following: organizational chairmanship, as well as classes for officers of local units: president, secretary, treasurer and budget. Classes will be held on: history, legislation, membership, pre-school, procedure and by-laws program, publicity and public relations, study group, civil defense, and college cooperation.

Classes will be taught by county officers and chairman holding the positions. Participants are to bring sandwich lunch and dessert and drink will be furnished. PTA members not holding chairmanship or office but interested in learning more about the organization are invited to attend.

For the first time in the city's history a swimming match will be held at the municipal swimming pool, Aug. 22 beginning at 9:30 a. m. when the Belle Glade swimming team stages a return match with West Palm Beach's recreation department.

The Belle Glade team managed to slip by 159-158 Aug. 8 at the "Howard Park on the coast. Competition should be keen, Coach Tom Stewart said, as the West Palm crew tries to even the score.

Various phases of the contest will be staged in age groups from eight and under through 18 and under.

Large Growth Is Seen At Library

Since Belle Glade Public Library opened April 13 in its new and enlarged location on South U.S. 1 (W.), the number of borrowers and book circulation has shown a steady increase.

The number of library card holders increased 152 by Aug. 1. Circulation grew from 1,325 books in May to 1,707 books in July and total number of book holders was 968, according to records of Mrs. Bettie Harris, librarian.

The bright, spacious, air-conditioned library has attracted more readers as well as the addition during the summer of 47 new fiction and 51 non-fiction books for adults, and 143 new books in the juvenile section.

During the morning session hours for children are well-attended. A number of civic and social organizations (Continued on Page Eight)

South Bay Intersection Said 56% Complete Now

Work is approximately 56 percent complete on the construction of a modern intersection at the junction of U.S. 1 and SR 60 at South Bay, State Road Board Member William D. Singer of Miami said.

Singer said the project should be completed by October. Work on the project consists of clearing, grubbing, grading, laying out a limberock base, paving, constructing storm sewers, curb and gutter, sidewalks, grassing and mulching.

The intersection is expected to be lighted by modern street lighting fixtures which will provide more light than those used previously.

Manager Talmadge Sketches Belle Glade Progress

Dog pound, street lights, sewerage system, water works, streets, library, parks, golf club, and a new city hall are some of the progress that City Manager Talmadge has sketched for the Belle Glade Rotary Club in a report on the progress of the city.

Mayor Bob Lanier introduced the City Manager and he led right off in his report as follows:

Streets: City trucks have been busy hauling rock for the sewerage system, and therefore were not able to be used to any extent in normal street work.

City Pound: "We are using year. The game warden to police all dogs in the community for the protection of the children of the community, and others; an applicant must show immunization within a six month period before license is issued."

Off-Street Parking: Ordinance for any new building permit issued according to a formula. Sanitation: It is expected that a closer supervision of sanitation regulations may be maintained—especially covers for garbage cans.

Fire Department: With 8 paid and 22 volunteers, a rigid system of training is being given to the fire department.

Library: Since the new library's program has been occupied, a department for juveniles and other improvements, additional donations for new books have been made.

Parks: The golf course has enjoyed a substantial increase in revenue and the city has a substantial increase in revenue.

Building: An increase in building has been noted over the last year over an all-time

City And Police Given Praise By Juvenile Report

City of Belle Glade Police Department and Police Chief Charles D. Goodlett came in for a great amount of praise in a recently-released annual report of the Palm Beach County Juvenile Court Counselors' activity submitted to the county commission by Alton Murray, Chief Counselor.

Dedicated to Juvenile Court Judge R. P. Robins, the document gives honorable mention to Belle Glade's police chief is recognized as the "first Chief of Police in Palm Beach County."

Central Borough incumbent Z. T. Ingram, seeking his fourth term, was first to be named as a candidate for the official voting time. This was later confirmed properly.

West Borough incumbent Paul Davidson, seeking his second term, was next to qualify; however, the third incumbent whose term expires, Mayor R. W. Lanier, said Wednesday, "I am definitely not going to run."

He had left his final decision hanging until he returned from his vacation this week.

Opposition Opposition is usually late in showing up at qualifying time, Anderson pointed out. The majority of the time, candidates wish to qualify late to prevent word from spreading to possible opposition.

Concerning possible candidates for the North Borough, it was "street rumor" that ex-commissioner J. Marvin Unwin would seek a second term.

Another former commissioner, H. O. Carlton would commit himself to a yes-or-no answer when asked by The Herald if he would qualify in the north race. He said, "I'm not saying."

One other ex-commissioner was unavailable for comment for the Central Borough election, no definite candidate to oppose Ingram has developed although several people have "threatened" to qualify.

Candidates have until Aug. 28 to qualify for the election.

Harold Zumpf Sells Distributorship To McArthur Jersey Farm Dairy

McArthur Jersey Farm Dairy, West Palm Beach, has purchased the Harold F. Zumpf milk distributing facilities effective Aug. 15 to be used to deliver McArthur milk in the Glades.

Zumpf has been a distributor since Dec. 1, 1948, when he took over his business from one truck. On his first day, Zumpf recalls, he sold 48 quarts of milk.

The business has expanded from that humble start to extended distribution into Clewiston and Pahokee in 1949 to his present operation of six trucks and seven employees with a volume of business beyond $300,000 per year. Zumpf said the expansion of his business has been due largely to the cooperation and acceptance of Glades business men and people in general who helped his business branch out into various phases of service.

It was in 1957 that his firm added Tropicana Orange Juice to the line and went on to develop a line of 40 mechanical vending machines for the product in Palm Beach, St. Lucie, Indian River and Brevard County.

A native of Hamburg, N. D., a farming area, Zumpf came to the Glades on a visit in 1945 to see his brothers. The visit resulted in Harold's returning permanently in July of 1947.

BELLE GLADE'S FIRST "do-it-yourself" sewer line seen in the photo as (1) E. Christiansen, resident engineer for the city's consulting engineer; and Clarence Throp, County engineer and (2) Mrs. Throp, superintendent; discuss the city's first sewer line installed by city forces. The tractor with digging attachment was being used to trench the line down S. W. Ave. D to Main St. Although this one's a demonstration model, the city will soon have a similar piece of equipment to replace the present trenching equipment. The new machine would be a vital asset to future city-dweller sewer line work.

This is the first time a state due to higher costs. The City Manager emphasized the importance of the municipal system, it is reported, in the manager's report proposed to the City for the next year.

Mr. Talmadge hopes, as does year (1) purchase of an accounting machine; (2) purchase of a new piece of equipment; (3) establish a six-year capital improvement program.

Rotarians evidenced interest services must be added. Records show that this attention and questioned him about 3% more than last year's during his discussion.

Educational Opportunities Offered By U. S. Armed Forces Institute

Army Recruiting Counselor M/Sgt. Partridge announced to complete their education in the U. S. Army. Sergeant Partridge said that those young men who plan to continue their schooling should by all means stay in school. But if for some reason a young man has missed out on a high school diploma, there are a number of ways in which the United States Army can help them.

Sergeant Partridge stated that the Army has a test which will reflect the individual's schooling, experience and general knowledge. The results of the examination indicates how far along the individual is toward meeting high school diploma requirements. Based on the scores of this test some individuals can qualify for a diploma immediately. Sergeant Partridge said. If further schooling is needed however, the U. S. Armed Forces Institute offers 48 high school academic and technical courses. Sergeant Partridge also stated that there are even opportunities for regular classroom instruction on the Army post where the individual may be assigned for Army duty.

Thousands of soldiers have completed requirements for high school diplomas through the Army's educational program, Sergeant Partridge continued.

In many cases, Sergeant Partridge said, thru the USAFI and co-operating universities throughout the United States and overseas, an individual can also earn college credits without having expensive tuition bills. A choice of more than 60 college correspondence courses from USAFI are available and any additional courses the individual desires are available at one $5.00 entrance fee, plus the cost of textbooks. Sergeant Partridge also stated that if attendance at an accredited college near an Army post is planned by the individual the Army will pay part of the tuition fees.

These educational advantages can be exploited by any young man while in the Army and at the same time he can enjoy a good salary, a 30 day paid vacation each year, plus many special benefits. Sergeant Partridge announced that he has full details on these plans which are available to any young man or his parents. His office is located at 219 South Dixie, West Palm Beach, Phone Temple

2-8598. Sergeant Partridge further stated that there is no obligation on the part of any individual when he talks over educational opportunities at the U. S. Army Recruiting Office. He may also be contacted at Belle Glade Draft Board No. 148 at 11 a. m. on first and third Wednesday.

NEW DAIRY PLANT AT FOUR POINTS near West Palm Beach of the new McArthur Dairy overlooking West Palm Beach Canal. Complete bottling equipment with loading platform and ample parking space for trucks and visitors, offices, a large hostess room for civic activities and other facilities. Shipments of milk are made up to be sent to the Glades via truck. The buildings, which have been in operation since last year, will handle all milk from the dairy farm west of Loxahatchee.

McArthur Enters Milk Field Here

McArthur Dairy, whose swathing, clothes were being worn during the early twenties because a school teacher and a dairyman joined forces in Dade County to prove their respective ideas of milk production and distribution for fast-growing Dade County.

The "gunna boys" were thriving. "We're gunna do this and we're gunna build a ten story hotel right here."

Mr. McArthur's salesmanship and energy brought him a long way in the dairy business and the financial world when the present-day money folks from the north began paying fabulous prices for dairyland which happened to be in the way of progress - a 3,000-unit home development project.

Mr. McArthur has spread out. Broward - there's a large-sized city where his dairy used to be, and to Palm Beach County. He's even gone to the sand lands of Okeechobee to build modern dairy barns and accessory buildings.

He's in the Glades now in the distribution of dairy products, and has taken over the organization of Harold.

Harold will continue to manage the local unit.

Some day after long Mr. McArthur's appreciation of the possibilities of milk production on the muck will have been sharpened, and we'll have a unit of the "largest individually owned producer-distributor of dairy products in the world!"

HUGE MILK TRUCKS such as the one seen above, 50 feet long and capable of hauling 5,500 gallons, is used to haul milk by McArthur Dairy. Milk is being delivered each day to the Glades from the bottling plant at Four Points, West Palm Beach.

1959 ACP Program Same As 1958; Accomplishments In PBC Are Noted

ACP Conservation Accomplishments in Palm Beach County Under 1958 Program Palm Beach County farmers used Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing assistance to establish ACP conservation practices on 119 farms in 1958, according to Sam Schooley, county office manager for the county ASC committee.

Total assistance received through the 1958 ACP by farmers in the county amounted to $87,597.00. Federal assistance amounted to less than 50 percent of the cost of performing the approved conservation practices. The farmers contributed the remainder of the cost and used their own labor and equipment in most cases in carrying out the practices. The purpose of this cost-share type program is to increase the extent and speed with which conservation needed in the public interest is done.

Mr. Schooley stated that the farms in the county on which conservation practices were reported carried out under the 1958 ACP represented 34 percent of the farmland and 19 percent of the cropland in the county. Some of the major conservation practices performed on Palm Beach County farms under the 1958 ACP were:

- Initial establishment of a permanent vegetative cover on farmland for soil protection as a needed and use adjustment 1494.0 acres.
- Vegetative covers improved

New Tax Laws Apply To Children

District Director Laurie W. Tomlinson said today that for Federal income tax purposes, a special law applies to children under 19 years of age, at the end of the year and to children who are full time students, regardless of their age.

He pointed out that a child may work during summer vacation and his parents may still claim him as an exemption on their Federal income tax return for that year, even though the child may earn more than $500.

It was pointed out that the parents who contribute more than half the support of a child in one of these categories, may claim a dependent exemption regardless of the amount earned by the child.

Also, the child is entitled to the $600 personal exemption, therefore, may be due a refund of a part of all from the Federal tax withheld from his earnings, but he will have to file an income tax return on or after next January 1 to claim the refund of any amount withheld in excess of the actual tax liability due.

The Director also pointed out that recently the Service had ruled that reasonable wages paid to a dependent child as a bonafide employee in the parents' business, are deductible. This is a modification of previous law which allowed no deduction if the child used the wages paid him by his parents for part of their support.

Also, the child is entitled to the $600 personal exemption, therefore, may be due a refund of a part of all from the Federal tax withheld from his earnings, but he will have to file an income tax return on or after next January 1 to claim the refund of any amount withheld in excess of the actual tax liability due.

The Veterans' Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest from former servicemen and their families:

Q. The firm I work for is transferring me to another city and therefore I must sell my GI home. Will it be possible for me to get my GI loan entitlement to help me to buy another home?

A. Yes, it is possible to have GI loan entitlement restored, in cases where the sale is for compelling reasons. The VA, however, must be released of all liability on the present loan.

Q. I have a dental condition resulting from combat wounds, but for which I am not entitled to receive compensation. Is there any deadline in my case for applying for outpatient dental treatment?

A. No. Veterans whose non-compensable dental conditions resulted from combat wounds may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed.

Q. I am studying for my doctorate degree under the Korean GI Bill. How many hours of classroom work does the VA consider to be full-time?

A. For graduate studies, there is no set number of hours. The VA accepts the word of honor of the school whether you are on a full-time or part-time basis.

Q. I was recently examined by a doctor in connection with reinstating my GI insurance, but neglected to send the examination report to the VA. Will the report be acceptable to the VA if it is sent in late?

A. The report should have been sent immediately after the examination. If the delay has been more than five days, you must submit a statement that you are in as good health as when examined. If the delay has been more than 31 days, the VA cannot accept your late report. You must take another examination.

Dear Folks:

Due to personal and business reasons, I have found it expedient to change to McARTHUR JERSEY FARM DAIRY PRODUCTS.

I assure you that McArthur Jersey Farm Dairy Products are of the highest quality and that all milk tests in excess of 4.0% butterfat.

In addition to items we have been delivering to you we will offer fresh eggs and butter.

My same crew of driver-salesmen and I will serve you, and I ask your continued patronage.

The generous support Glades folks have given over the years has permitted us to assume and maintain that standard as parents, community workers and citizens, of which we are all proud.

Sincerely in appreciation,

Harold Zumpf

Child Survives Deadly Poison

Twenty-month-old Charles Godfrey is now expected to live after he came close to death by drinking an unknown quantity of mosquito spray at a house near Nine Mile Bend, according to the Sheriff's Department.

Charles, the son of Ruby Lee Godfrey, was staying at his grandmother's, Mrs. Lulu Mae Pace. Her 13-year-old daughter and two other smaller children were also in the house. It was reported that Charles drank from a can of diluted Diazinon, a solution used to make mosquito spray. It is reportedly quite deadly to humans.

The baby was rushed to Belle Glade Memorial Hospital; however, not before the car in which they were riding had a flat tire south of Belle Glade. Another passing motorist helped with the rest of the journey.

The child remained in critical condition the early part of the week, however, Charles is improved now.

Working the case were Sgt. Art Folden and Officer Leon Warren of the Belle Glade police and Deputies Theo York and Frank Prevatt of the Sheriff's Dept.

Appointments Set For LSHS Faculty

One new teacher and two replacement teachers have been named to the staff of Lake Shore High School this week, according to Principal Charles McCurdy.

McCurdy said the latest plan addition gives the school two new classrooms and a science lab which will put the school in good shape for the anticipated enrollment of 750.

New teacher for the high school is Miss Betty B. Fletcher, a math teacher, a graduate of Florida A.M. Mrs. Hattie J. Morgan will replace Isaac Jordan, who resigned. Mrs. Morgan is a Bethune-Cookman graduate and comes from Lakeland.

Miss Vera Selmore has resigned, and she has been replaced by Mrs. Ruby J. Hughes as physical education and health teacher. Mrs. Hughes is also a Bethune-Cookman College graduate, McCurdy said.

One more teacher is needed on the faculty to teach English and Spanish.

Elementary School

Three classrooms and a library have been added to Lake Shore Elementary School which will take care of that school's population this year. Three of six needed teachers have already been appointed, McCurdy said, speaking for Principal E. H. Fitzgerald, who is out of the city.

Those already appointed are Roger Coffey, of Bethune-Cookman, and Mrs. Clydena Miller, West Palm Beach, a former teacher here who stayed out of the profession last year.

Mrs. Corneil Jones, wife of East Lake teacher, Arthur Jones will join the Lake Shore staff.

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and just recently, Chevrolet received the N.A.S.A.R. Outstanding Achievement award for "the creative and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sizes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-plate brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 64% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by N.A.S.A.R., Chevy out-stopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-price 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A. Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $120 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?
